California Ranch News

Records from the College of Agricultural at Davis show the pounds of wool produced last year in California at approximately 22,000,000,000, while the value of this crop is estimated at $7,000,000. California ranks second in the production of sheep and wool, with Texas holding the first place.

The reluctane of growers of Tulare county to poison birds seems to be gradually disappearing. This season tons of poison are being put out in deciduous fruit orchards as the bird pest particularly the sparrows and linnets, is increasing. The county horticultural office is advocating control of these birds through poison.

Figures taken from the orchard census just completed by T. A. Willis, county horticultural commissioner, disclose that the acreage planted to fruit trees and vines in Colusa county is considerably more than has been estimated in previous years. The total, including the plantings in 1927 amounted to 618 acres. A conservative estimate of the value of the orchard crops produced in 1927 would be about $1,800,000, Willits estimated.

Great preparations are being made at Chino for the annual walnut institute, set for February 25. Growers will be present from several California counties representing the walnut growers' department of their respective county farm bureaus. Conditions having to do with the production and marketing of walnuts will be discussed.

Directors of the Imperial Valley Grain Growers' Association are preparing a petition asking for lower freight rates from valley points to Los Angeles. They declare that the present rate of from 22 to 25 cents is out of line with other rates now in effect from intrastate points to the Los Angeles terminal. The Imperial Valley Grain Growers' Association now has 108 members and does an annual business in excess of $1,000,000.

Cow testing in California reached its highest mark last year, according to G. E. Gordon, dairy specialist of the Agricultural Extension Service of the University of California. There were 70,973 cows on test in California last year in 35 counties of the state, and of these 8071 were culled as unprofitable.

Help for the farmer who is getting too small a share of the national income, according to agricultural experts, will come in March to twenty-four towns in the Sacramento and San Joaquin valleys. A 14-car special train carrying livestock and agricultural exhibits will make a two weeks tour at that time to emphasize the need of diversified farming and to study conditions in each farming area. Professor B. H. Crocheron, director of agricultural extension of the University of California, and R. E. Kelly, manager of development of the Southern Pacific, will be in charge, assisted by members of the agricultural staff of the university.

The deciduous fruit growers of California won a second victory over the railroads in their fight for reduced freight rates last week, when three Federal judges, sitting en banc, refused to restrain operation of new rates fixed by the Interstate Commerce Commission. About 400 railroads joined in the application for a temporary restraining order. Arguments were heard some time ago by Judge Frank H. Rudkin of the U. S. Circuit Court ,and Judges Frank H. Kerrigan and A. F. St Sure of the Federal District Court. They were unanimous in the opinion handed down denying the application. The commission cut the rates on deciduous fruit shipments to certain Eastern points from $1.75 to $1.60 per 100 pounds and to other Eastern points from $1.62 to $1.50.

Grapes led in agricultural and horticultural plantings in Napa county during the year 1927, it is disclosed in the annual report submitted by Horticultural Commissioner W. D. Butler. New vineyards set out totaled 200 acres. Pears were second on the list, and prunes, one of the leading crops of this productive valley, came third. The increased plantings in pears over past years further indicated that this variety of fruit is rapidly growing in favor in this vicinity says Butler.

Golden State
News of Interest to All

There were 29.6 suicides per 100,000 population in this State during 1927, according to the State estimate. The statement gave 1,240 suicides for the year just ended and 1,118 for 1926. Available records on deaths from external causes, including homicides, give a total of 4,100 for 1927 and 4,803 for 1926 in California. The estimated rate was 96.8 per 100,000 population for the last year, a marked decrease under the rate of 116.3 for the previous calendar year.

Two State highway and bridge contracts involving over $33,000 were awarded last week by Bert B. Meek, State director of public works. G. D. Contoules of San Francisco received an $11,857 contract for grading three miles of highway east of Jackson, Amador county. A $21,971 contract went to Paul M. White of Santa Monica for erection of a bridge over Aliso Creek, north of San Juan Capistrano, Orange county, and widening another bridge near Tustin, also in Orange county.

Los Angeles County led the State in marriages during the last twelve months, with 16,875, while Alpine county, boasting but one wedding, came last. With San Francisco second in the State at large and Alameda county third. Marriages dropped off somewhat after the so-called "gin-marriage" statute became effective at the end of July. The estimate for 1927 is 53,498, or 12.6 per 1,000 population. This is contrasted with 56,664 weddings during the previous year, when the rate was 13.7.

The California quarantine on mussels, ordered last July following 28 cases of mussel poisoning, six of which proved fatal, was lifted by the department of public health in six districts last week, but will remain in full force in all other parts of the State. Dr. Walter M. Dickie, State director of public health, lifted the quarantine on mussels at Candle Stick Point, Bay Shore, San Mateo county; Coronado Beach, San Diego county; Monterey, Monterey county; Sierra Point, West Berkeley; Wine Haven, Contra Costa county, and Marine Island, Point Richmond, Contra Costa county.

The value of gold, silver, copper, lead and zinc produced at mines in California in 1927, according to the estimate of J. M. Hill of the United States Bureau of Mines, department of commerce at Washington, was $16,768,500, a decrease of $3,282,301 or 16 per cent, as compared with the value of metals produced in 1926. There were apparently decreased yields of about 2 per cent in gold, 30 per cent in the value of silver, 26 per cent in the value of copper, 73 per cent in the value of zinc produced as compared with the previous year.

An increase of 984 in the population of California's penal institutions, schools, homes and hospitals during 1927 was reported last week by the State department of institutions. The population at the end of 1927 was 22,534. A year ago it was 21,550. The gain was principally in the inmates of the prisons and hospitals, although the number of charges cared for at feeble-minded homes likewise gained considerably.

Larceny is the most prevalent crime among California law-breakers, and burglary and forgery come next, if extradition records for the last year, made public at Sacramento last week, can be taken as a criterion of conditions. Out of 185 requests for extradition made on other states by Governor C. C. Young during 1927, forty-one cases involved larceny, according to Keith Carlin, the Governor's executive secretary. Next on the list were 22 burglary cases and 21 complaints involving forgeries. There were also 21 bad check cases. Carlin reported that robbery and embezzlement also figured largely in the extradition cases and that fourteen requests were made for return of alleged California murderers.

One of the most important announcements in the Grass Valley mining district for several years is that of the discovery of an eight to twelve foot ledge in virtually virgin ground in the Idaho-Maryland Mine. Errol MacBoyle, president of the present Idaho-Maryland Company, confirmed the discovery in a statement and declared his belief that it marked a new epoch for this historic property which has produced from $23,000,000 to $25,000,000. The ledge carries free gold and excellent values in milling ore. Many high-grade specimens have been recovered, but no bonanza deposits have been found so far in the explorations, which are still limited. The studies of MacBoyle, Crase and other engineers indicate that it reaches the surface through virgin ground, thus affording a very large mining area.

SARATOGA IS MEETING PLACE OF CONSOLIDATED

Santa Clara Consolidated Chambers of Commerce will meet at the Saratoga Inn, Saratoga, on Tuesday, February 7, was the announcement coming from Wendell C. Thomas, president, yesterday.

Several matters of important concern to the members are to come before the meeting. Final plans for Santa Clara county's Old Settlers' Day at Campbell, February 22, will be announced; tentative plans for the annual Blossom Festival at Saratoga are expected to be discussed, and the new county advertising budget, recently prepared by the publicity committee, will be presented for approval.

A final report on the county's prune week sales has been promised by W. F. Powers, chairman, and it is probable that the activities of the sanitation committee will be reviewed.

The members of the Board of Supervisors have been invited to attend and it is expected that there will be a good attendance at the Blossom City's meeting.

HOOVER ENDORSED

The delegation of Congressmen representing California held a caucus at Washington and unanimously endorsed Herbert Hoover for Presidential nominee at the coming Republican convention.

The following resolution was passed:

"We, all the Republican members from California of the House of Representatives, unanimously and unreservedly endorse Herbert Hoover, secretary of commerce in the cabinet of President Coolidge, for the nomination for President of the United States at the forthcoming convention of the Republican party at Kansas City.

"Although a native of Iowa, he has been continuously a resident of California for more than 35 years. We are proud, therefore, to propose his name as our choice for President.

"Because of his well-known achievements as an engineer, as statesman, and as a humanitarian because of his character as a man, and because we believe he will make a great President of the United States, we hereby pledge him our heartiest support in behalf of his nonimation and election.

LIBRARY BENEFIT PLAN

The next meeting of the Country Womans' Club will be held Monday, February 7, the subject, "Books — Various," with Mrs. Lilian Voge, librarian as chairman. Arrangements for the card party for the following Friday afternoon will be completed and announced. A full attendance of members is urged so that this party may "go over big."

TAXES TALKED AT CLUB LUNCH

Budget Plan Discussed

Ben Curry, as chairman, raked in his quota of short-bits at the Kiwanis luncheon Tuesday and the talk on taxes by Al Hubbard of the County Board of Supervisors was much less touching because of Ben's direct and immediate assessments.

The Hal trio, Cramer, Morton, Tuttle, assisted by President Doc Merrill gave two old time songs that were much enjoyed.

In speaking of tax complaints, Al Hubbard, without mother, declated that almost invariably on any issue the biggest howler was one among those least effected. If the 40-cent road tax is removed no funds would be available for repair of roads and only a limited amount could be taken from the general fund for building new roads. At present the 4th and 5th districts need much permanent road work done while the other districts are well cared for. In one of several cases an anti-road farmer spent several times his road tax in buying gas to motor about and agitate against the very proposition that was best for him.

On the great bulk of taxes the county board has nothing to say as to the levy and have the entire direction of spending only 50c out of a 64 cent levy. The county office salaries and expenses are set by law.

Mr. Hubbard has been a member of the board 23 years.

One of the big expense items of the county is the hospital. This institution has grown to be one of the best in the State and now has a staff of three doctors, three interns, 18 graduate nurses, 10 practical nurses and 33 student nurses. The patients of the tubercular house has increased from 70 to 80 during the past month. The expense of the almshouse is paid out of the same infirmary fund.

Mr. Hubbard stated that all Mexican laborers should pass a physical test before being permitted to immigrate here and all farmers and employers of such labor should co-operate with the government to that end. He believes that the new budget system may raise the tax rate.

William Baylor of San Jose will speak on "Community co-operation," at the luncheon next week, with Tac Cutting getting even on old scores.

ANNIVERSARY DINNER FOR PASTOR

A very happy occasion will be celebrated Wednesday evening when the regular Congregational fellowship supper will commemorate the arrival of Rev. J. H. Bennett as a pastor a year ago.

A year ago he was a new and unknown man in our midst, today he is one of our busiest and most popular civic workers as well as a good speaker. He has already been called on to speak to many of the service clubs about the county.

His particular hobby is Boy Scouts and he has helped build up a strong organization. He organized and put in uniform the first Cub Scout troop in California.

Since bringing his family here from London in June, they have greatly enjoyed the California sunshine so different from the long fog seasons when the sun was not seen there for weeks.

The supper will be served at 6:30 after which Rev. H. K. Hamilton of Los Gatos will address a public gathering in the church.

A cordial invitation is extended the public to make this after supper meeting a community expression of good will.

CAMPBELL COPS BOTH S. J. GAMES

The Campbell High School basketball teams emerged victorious in the two games played with their ancient rivals, San Jose, winning the light weight contest 21-16 and triumphing over the San Jose unlimiteds 22-19. The games were played in the Campbell gymnasium.

The local 130-pound team trimmed their opponents in fine fashion and the spectators were well satisfied with the result, for the Campbell aggregation easily asserted their superiority.

Clif Berger and Martin Shadle tallied all the points made by the Campbell team and were incidentally, the high-point men of the game, with 11 and 10 points respectively.

It was left to the unlimiteds, however, to provide thrills for the audience. From the time the starting whistle blew to the finish, the Campbell squad fought like a bunch of wildcats, and if ever a team deserved victory, the Campbell unlimiteds are that team.

The first quarter found the two quintets struggling to break an 8-8 tie. Minutes passed before either team could penetrate the others defense. Suddenly, Steve Merrill broke loose, and tearing down the side-lines, flipped the ball through the bucket. Almost before the spectators could resume their seats, Anderson of San Jose, sank a long shot from side-court that tied the score again. The half was nearly over. In desperation the Campbell team rallied and Krohn found the bucket on a set-up play. The half ended with Campbell holding two-point margin.

The third quarter started as the first both teams playing hard but conservatively. Krohn and Merrill both scored in this period, as did Jackson, San Jose forward. The two teams appeared tired and the short respite between quarters was welcomed. The final session began with a dash, but many minutes passed with a dash, before either team scored. Anderson broke the ice with a neat goal from the foul line and followed quickly with a another. "One-Shot Meyer" came through with a field goal and San Jose was leading. Two minutes to go! Steve Merrill, by quick passing and dribbling got in position for a set-up, which he scored easily. Then Krohn rang the hoop and San Jose retalliated with a foul shot.

San Jose fought furiously but to no avail. Hamilton sank a one-hander from center and the gun barked the finish of the game.

These were the best games seen in the Campbell gymnasium for years and the local supporters are jubilant over Campbell's success.

The Campbell basketball teams will play Sequoia (Redwood City) in the Campbell gymnasium Friday night.

The first game will ,no doubt, be hotly contested, with the Campbellites slight favorites as a result of their fine showing in the last two games.

The unlimited contest should be a good one also, with Campbell probable winners.

These games are expected to be as thrilling as last weeks, and a large crowd will probably witness them.

How About Russia

A well-known San Francisco newspaper man tells this story on how well we knew Russia before the war. He says every word of this story is true. It happened in New Haven, Conn. He was a cub reporter at about $10 per week. The owner of the paper was also a professor at Yale and the paper was careful to report college items.

This young man was sent to cover a lecture on Russia by a prominent college official. The reporter, as the editor now admits, was rushing a beautiful young girl and forgot all about the lecture assignment until 9:30 by the clock. In hot haste he rushed up to the college campus only to find the lecture room dark and all departed.

Returning very slowly, not rushing this time, to the office, he saw his job going—gone. The only time in my life, the now well known San Francisco editor admits, that he faked a writeup, was this time. Remembering his Russian geopraphy and with the help of an encyclopedia, he reported the lecture with many misgivings.

The next morning, to his surprise, it appeared on the front page. At noon the professor owner of the paper stepped in and asked who reported the lecture on Russia and was told. Tapping the trembling young man on the shoulder, he said that it was a very good report—salary increased two dollars. All of which reveals how much some people knew about Russia.

A. P. Giannini, the banker-magnate, will visit Russia this year to make a study of conditions and its institutions. Despite the fact that the administration refused the recognize this country, American capital is seeking investment over there. Capital doesn't seem to be as timid as some of our politicians. But we will recognize Russia in time, for today, it has one of the most stable governments of all Europe. Not only is its government stable, but its currency shows less fluctuation than that of countries supposed to be more civilized. While we may dislike the soviet form of government, yet it is the Russians' creation, and why not permit them to have it.

Criticize yourself today and others tomorrow.

Campbell can not get along long with long heads.

Persistence

WHEN a boy baby was born in 1908, his parents began immediately to provide for his education, and opened a savings account in the American Trust Company. The initial deposit was ten dollars. Each month thereafter a like sum was deposited. Today the savings amount to $3,665, and of this sum $1,265 is the accumulation of interest at four per cent, compounded semi-annually. The money will amply meet all the expense of fitting the boy for a professional career. That's the story of how one family solved the problem of financing a child's education. The plan is commended to all parents.

Dairy Cow Money-Maker in California

The dairy cows of California contribute an average of 60 cents each, per day, to the creation of new capital.

As the figures are extended they become more impressive. There are 596,000 dairy cows in California and the daily value of the product of which they are the source is more than $350,000. This means over $10,000,000 of new money each month; more than $130,000,000 for the year.

The money goes quickly into local channels of trade. The dairy farmer receives his check at intervals of not more than 30 days. Often payment is made each week and in many instances every day.

There are a number of cities and towns in California where milk money is greater than any other item in local commerce. Business prosperity is dependent upon the cows in the surrounding country.

"The year which has just closed was reasonably satisfactory for the dairy industry," said Sam H. Greene, secretary of California Dairy Council. "The price received by the dairy farmer for milkfat during 1927 averaged two cents a pound more than during 1926.

"Part of this, of course, was absorbed by some increase in labor and feed costs; also, part went for improvement in dairy farm sanitation, which are the most stringent in the nation and probably the most uniformly enforced."

P. L. Hutchinson went to Stockton last week to finish up some business there before moving here permanently.

Mrs. Clara Page and daughter Miss Grace returned to hteir home in Soquel Sunday afternoon after spending a couple of weeks in Campbell.

Mrs. Dave Sanders of Saratoga is entertaining a number of friends this evening in honor of the birthday of Egbert Thompson of Campbell.

THE BANKER-FARMER MOVEMENT GROWING

There are several reasons for the growth of the banker-farmer movement in Pennsylvania, William S. McKay, Chairman of the Agricultural Committee, Pennsylvania Bankers Association, has reported to the Agricultural Commission of the American Bankers Association. The cooperation and leadership of the county agents in the several counties of the state; the appointment and functioning of county chairmen of agriculture known as Key Bankers, one of whom there is in each county of the state; and the organization of county bankers associations, whereby agriculture is given consideration by all the banks, are responsible for this interest. The following table shows the activities for the year:

Project	Number of Counties
Sent young farmers to state college for special course	5
Encouraged farm shows.....	16
Held agricultural tours	6
Sponsored various club activities	38
Gave illustrated lectures on poultry, cow testing, and improved farm methods	1
Distributed purebred livestock, chicks, and disease-free potatoes	13

"There is probably no class of business men that has a greater opportunity for helpfulness than the bankers in this movement," declares Mr McKay. "It builds up a substantial community which makes for better banking institutions; it adds to the material prosperity of our state, but above all, it is the expression of a service which will react favorably upon the character of those interested."

BANKERS HELP OUT

The Oklahoma Bankers Association for the past twelve years has financed through its five groups ten scholarships in the A. & M. College at Stillwater. The winners are chosen by the Extension Department of the college on the merits of the club work done by the boys and girls over a certain period of time. The groups of the association finance the first year of the winner's college work.

The president of a national bank in Fayettesville, Arkansas, has been credited with doing more for the farmers of his section than any other one man. His work has consisted of introducing pure bred Holstein cattle into his county, helping employ a county agent, donating prizes to boys and girls in club work, and distributing better seed.

Here are some of the things accomplished in Randolph County, Ark., with the help of bankers last year: forty-three purebred gilts were bought at a reasonable price and placed with boys and girls, on notes; three thousand eggs from high producing hens were distributed with the idea of developing flocks of at least one hundred hens on every farm; four purebred Jersey bulls whose dams had a record of over 700 pounds butterfat, have been purchased by the banks and will be paid for out of service fees.

SCOUT NOTES

Sunday is a red letter day for many of the Campbell lads. At 7:30 in the evening the court of honor will be held in the Congregational Church.

Mr. A. M. Mortenson will speak and Mr. George Shaner will present the awards.

Every member of the scout troops is expected to be present by 7:15 p. m. Don't stay away because your uniform is not ready.

Our Sea Scouts are a live bunch and will soon show Sea Scouting of the bay area a few points. Real leadership will tell.

Supports Cal. Stand

"The East knows next to nothing about California's special agricultural problems as they are affected by the threat of Mexican labor exclusion now embodied in bills before Congress," Lewis E. Pierson, president of the United States Chamber of Commerce, said today. Mr. Pierson, who is an executive of the Irving Trust Company of New York as well as head of the national Chamber of commerce, was entertained by representative San Francisco business men at a luncheon at the Commercial Club on the eve of his sailing tomorrow to attend the western divisional council of the United States Chamber of Commerce at Honolulu.

"The United States Chamber of Commerce," Mr. Pierson continued, " Is thoroughly alive to the fears expressed by agriculturists in California and the Southwest anent the possibility of the Box bill's passage by Congress. I think your agricultural bodies are asking nothing unreasonable when they petition Congress that it inform itself thoroughly on all phases of an admittedly complicated subject before acting."

Many Motorists Use Dumbarton Bridge

The theory that motorists will invariably go out of their way to use a bridge apparently is vindicated in the official travel figures just issued by the Dumbarton Bridge Corporation. The figures show that nearly 1,000,000 automobile passengers crossed the span during the year 1927. The exact number was 947,288.

The heaviest month was October, when 35,462 motor cars used the structure; in July the total number of cars was 35,126, and in November, the "Big Game" month, the total was 35,151. These figures, the officials declare, far exceed expectations.

More than 400,000 passenger cars and trucks crossed the span during the year, the compilation of traffic also points out.
